STANFORD FEMALE COLLEGE.

A Pleasant and Successful Session Closes
In Brilliance.

Another session of Stanford Female College was brought to a fitting close at midnight, Friday, in interesting exercises that were presented in an artistic manner, without a hitch or a blemish in the interest displayed by an audience that filled auditorium, gallery, aisles, lobby and every niche and corner of the Opera House. As the building can seat about 600 people, there must have been fully 750 present. Hardly a man was permitted to retain his seat, being forced out to make room for the ladies, who filled nearly every chair in the auditorium and made it look like a veritable flower garden of beauty.

The pretty school girls were on hand at the appointed hour and promptly at 8 o'clock President J. M. Hubbard, who believes in being on time, rang the curtain up and after requesting the audience to be quiet, asked Rev. T. J. Godfrey to invoke the Divine blessing, which he did in a few well-chosen words, and the exercises were inaugurated by a very creditable rendition of "Eulalia" by Misses Alpha Tyree, Annie Bushman, Emma Owsley and Susie Newland. A class of large girls then recited in unison "Kentucky Belle" and a small set "Eulalia's Secret" in a clear and distinct manner, followed by Misses Carrie Trudy, who rendered "Flying Jim's Leap" with much spirit and eloquence. The calisthenic exercises by the smaller girls was given in perfect time to the music and showed that they had been expertly trained. Miss Alpha Tyree favored the audience next with an instrumental solo, which elicited much applause, besides a wealth of beautiful ditties artistically arranged in the shape of a harp. Miss Euseine Burch recited "Whistling in Heaven" very excellently, followed by a class that gave "The Three Belles" in perfect concert. "The Broken Pitcher" by Miss Anna Hale was short and sweet and "The Bewitched Clock" by Miss Fleur Ballou, a very superior piece of orationary work. "Norma" was skillfully executed by Misses Dovie Talbot, Annie Hurst, Annie Bushman and Miss Williams, the latter taking the place of Miss Laura McAnally, who was sick.

The curtain dropped here and rose on the calisthenic class of large girls, who went through the various maneuvers with the precision of clock-work. Miss Ophelia Lackey gave a very charming rendition of "Robert of Lincoln" and Miss Annie Green was fully as delicious in "The Sioux Chief's Daughter." Both of these young ladies did amazingly well. Miss Hollie Williams, the lovely and highly cultivated music teacher, treated the audience to a solo "Waiting," which she gave with exquisite sweetness and grace. Miss Clara Lackey went through the long recitation of "Parade of Peru," without a moment's hesitancy at any point and in a manner which must have made her father and mother feel very proud of her. Even the alarm of the caused by the chemical light flashed on her did not disconcert her or break the thread of the narrative. A violin solo by Mr. B. H. Banks showed that gentleman to be pretty well at home with that instrument and he received numerous bouquets for his effort. A large class recited "Sandalphon" and then the "Midsummer Night's Dream" filled the air with sweet melody. Miss Williams and Miss Lucy Tate performed it in a duet and that means it was perfectly done.

The only graduate of the session, Miss Mary D. Carter, daughter of our countryman, Mr. Peter Carter, was here introduced by Prof. Hubbard. She was looking exceedingly well in white silk muslin, more trimmings, natural flowers and ruffly ornaments, which set off her natural charms very handsomely, and read the following essay gracefully and distinctly.

ON EVERY HEIGHT THERE LIES REPOSE.
Man has from the beginning of creation associated rest and repose with the idea of elevation. Man's original conception of Heaven was that it was a place above us and that Hell was a place below us. But he can see now how mistaken his ideas were since he knows that the two places would change localities every twelve hours by the earth turning on its axis.

He can easily find a place for Heaven among the far-away stars that shine so brightly above us, yet so far from the reach of man. He can easily imagine the sun as God's throne with all the stars as worlds revolving around Him in perfect peace and harmony. But he concluded that they were all too fair a place for Hell and in his difficulty to find a suitable place he has been tempted to discard all ideas of such a place and say that God has left no place in this universe for the eternal punishment of the evil doers. Dante has told us that his idea of Heaven was that it was not only above us but that it was formed of seven circles and to attain perfect bliss it was necessary to reach the topmost one. The peace of God seems to rest on the mountain top. Christ, when He sought solitude and prayer, went up into a mountain, and it is instinct with man to climb the rough mountain side in search of the rest he is sure to find when he reaches the top.

A party traveling in the West concluded to view the wonderful dome of Mt. Shasta. At first they did not intend to ascend the knoll, but after resting a day at the foot of this solitary monarch of the West, they decided on the morrow to undertake the perilous ascent of his rough height. Long before the sun had risen and the birds left their places of rest, we sailed forth from the camp, dressed in suits that would stand the rain and storms and would pass through the jungle. We took with us a guide and the necessary provisions. Thus equipped we wound our way through the bushes and briars to the base of the mountain. Who can tell with what inward content we set forth to explore the wonderful dome of this mysterious mountain. As the sun rose the long line of hills of which this was one of the points could be clearly seen above the horizon, while above them all towered the point toward which we had set our faces. After we had traveled some distance we were obliged to leave the high road and climb through bushes and briars and pull ourselves up almost perpendicular banks, while the rocks rolled and slipped from under our feet, tumbled on the bushes and shrubs would give way and we would fall back almost as far as we had advanced. The further we ascended the more rugged it seemed. We had not traveled much further up this dangerous height when it began to rain. It rained on the mountain as it had never rained in the valley beneath us. The black clouds seemed to come down upon us, the lightning dashed in blinding sheets around us and the thunder rolled in a heavy deafening sound that made even the rocks tremble for their security. During this dreadful storm we had no place of shelter, it was not even safe to stop on the roadside to look above us would tuck one dizzy for the whole mountain seemed ready to topple over on us and bury us forever beneath its mass of rocks and earth. We pressed on until it became unsafe to proceed further on account of the rushing waters and falling rocks that would break loose their hold in the earth and tumble down the side of the mountain, destroying everything in their way. In a few hours we were again traveling on our journey, which seemed, when looking above, to meet the sky, but to look around on this wild mountain scene which stretched out on every side, grand, majestic and rugged, one could not help perceiving that nature had made this mountain as interesting as possible. The immense base, clothed in rich foliage, seemed far away beneath us, yet dark and gloomy and like a black wall, stood the side of the mountain up which we were to climb. To look at it even was discouraging, for we were getting weary and heartsick; but, shall we send our way backward down this seemingly impassable precipice? Nay, verily, such a thought must not for a moment be entertained, so we press on step after step. Up the rocky acclivities we climbed until we were in sight of the fairy land of the top, then in the fullness of its meaning we realized, "On every height there lies repose." What a scene was presented to our view, how totally unlike anything we had ever before witnessed.

Few can imagine with what delight we looked around on this grand view spread out like a panorama around us and what pleasure it was to look back and see that we had overcome all the hardships and trials and could forever rest in this Eden. Above us was the sky of an intense blue; not a cloud to obstruct our gaze into the vaulted heaven, while on every side was all that we could wish, the large trees waving their outstretched arms in the cool breeze, while the birds sang merrily among their leaves.

At our feet the pure, clear water bubbled forth from the ground and ran with a gentle murmur down the dangerous steep we had just ascended. To look upon this goodly land was truly a scene such as man cannot often enjoy in his short, restless life, but to dwell here would surely make one desire to live always.

Just so it is with our school lives. We start from home in the morning, light hearted and happy, knowing nothing of the toils and trials there will be in our lives, our minds are filled with the thought that we will soon know how to read and write just as well as our elders, who have already climbed the rough mountain. But who can make us realize the trials to be gone through with until they have been taught us by experience?

Our first step up the hill is to learn our letters. This done the second step is accomplished with many a frown seen upon the brow, many a discouraged look and anxious heart. But on and on we struggle up the hill until we are nearing the top, then it is we begin to realize how little we know of the meaning of knowledge. We feel as if we were hardly capable of standing on the side of so vast a mountain. We take courage and climb on step after step, nearer and nearer the top, until we reach the plane we have so long sought.

Then it is we realize our school toils are over and that we rest on a height where lies repose. Repose from the monotonous duties of school life; of course we are not so presumptuous as to imagine that we have reached the topmost height of the hill of science or that our education is completed. We are convinced from the experience of those who have succeeded in life that when we rest, we sail forth from the camp, dressed in suits that would stand the rain and storms and would pass through the jungle. We took with us a guide and the necessary provisions. Thus equipped we wound our way through the bushes and briars to the base of the mountain. Who can tell with what inward content we set forth to explore the wonderful dome of this mysterious mountain. As the sun rose the long line of hills of which this was one of the points could be clearly seen above the horizon, while above them all towered the point toward which we had set our faces. After we had traveled some distance we were obliged to leave the high road and climb through bushes and briars and pull ourselves up almost perpendicular banks, while the rocks rolled and slipped from under our feet, tumbled on the bushes and shrubs would give way and we would fall back almost as far as we had advanced. What a scene was presented to our view, how totally unlike anything we had ever before witnessed.

The Dedication of the new building of the Methodist Church, which began Sept. 1, The Military March by Misses Williams, Annie Bushman, Alpha Tyree and Dora Caldwell closed the exercises. The benediction was pronounced by Elder W. L. Williams and the 18th scholastic session of Stanford Female College was at an end. Everything passed off in a most satisfactory manner, to the credit of all concerned, and to the evident delight of those who sat through the four hours that the programme remained. The young ladies were the recipients of many floral offerings and the graduate in addition to many of these was remembered with several baskets of fruits and confections.

The session just closed has proved very successful and fairly remunerative. President Hubbard will redouble his efforts to make the next even more worthy of support and with his accomplished wife and corps of trained assistants he is sure that he will be able to do so. The following announcements are made by authority.

Miss Arnall, of Georgia, a graduate of the New England Conservatory and a distinguished teacher of music and gymnastics, takes charge of the music department. She is a fine vocalist. Miss Tipton, of Tennessee, a graduate of the Peabody Normal College, Nashville, will assist in the literary department and give instructions in calisthenics. This lady is well versed in modern methods of instruction and discipline. Miss Bedinger is a member of a well-known Kentucky family and a distinguished graduate of the Art School of Cincinnati, where she is taking a post-graduate course and doing order work. All these ladies have received special instructions in their professions and have presented testimonials from the very highest authority as to character and competency. The present management of the College will hereafter adhere strictly to the policy of employing none but Conservatory and Normal school teachers. We believe that our people will come to see the advantages thus presented and will give the College their best support. All of us are mutually interested in the success of the institution and should not send our daughters away, when all that any school can give can be obtained at home.

DEATHS' DOINGS.

Thomas W. Means, the iron king of the Hanging Rock iron region, died at Ashland Sunday.

Mr. John Ballard, aged 81 years, died near Highland, of heart disease, on the 4th. He was deacon for 20 years of Mt. Moriah Christian church and a highly respected citizen.

Died on June 4th, 1890, at his residence near Warrensburg, Mo., E. W. Dawson, formerly of this county, of cancer of the stomach. Deceased was about 72 years of age and brother of J. L. Dawson, Sr., of this county. The Dawson family consisted of 8 children, 5 boys and 3 girls. They are all dead but J. L., the eldest, who is now in his 84th year. Truly saith the Scripture "The last shall be first and the first last."

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

A Trenton, N.J., wife wants a divorce because her husband danced upon her new spring bonnet.

There are 2,500 courts in the United States authorized to grant divorces and one marriage in every 28 is thus annulled.

Married, Thursday, 6th, by Rev. J. R. Terry, Wm. F. Clymer and Miss Lucy Bourne, both of Lincoln county.—Lancaster Record.

Dr. B. F. Phillips, the Danville wholesale liquor dealer, and Miss Bettie Detton were married at the bride's sister's, Mrs. Louise VanWinkle, last week.

Mr. Samuel R. Newland and Miss Annie E. Murphy, daughter of Mr. Logan Murphy, obtained license and were married at the bride's home Sunday.

Charles W. Shively, of Campbellsville, and Miss Charlena Clark, of Barboursville, were married last week. The groom is a well-known and popular drummer.

"John," said the minister, "will you take this woman to be your wedded wife?" "Now, here, parson, what's the use of asking questions like that?" What do you suppose I am after, a divorce?" Life.

Miss Minnie Phillips, daughter of H. B. Phillips and Mr. B. Ray Edmonds, of the Marion National Bank, will be married at the Baptist church in this city Wednesday evening.—Lebanon Enterprise.

Rev. Morris Evans, in his residence in this place, yesterday, married Miss Annie Field, music teacher at Madison Female Institute, and Prof. D. W. Basson, of Millersburg College. The marriage was a surprise to all, no previous intimation having been given.—Richmond Register.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

Rev. Will P. Barnes has been elected assistant rector of Christ's Church, Lexington, and has entered on the discharge of his duties.

The new Methodist church at Pineville will be dedicated on the 4th Sunday in this month. Bishop Wilson, who was expected to be here, it has been found, will be unable to attend, and Dr. W. T. Pointer has been engaged to take part in the dedicatory exercises.—Pineville Messenger.

Dr. T. C. Carter, editor of the Methodist Advocate, one of the most prominent Methodist divines in the South and who two years ago received the solid vote of the South for Bishop of the Southern Diocese is the defendant in a church trial at Chattanooga, now being conducted by a number of ministers of the conference on the charge of adultery.

The dedication of the Moreland Methodist church was largely attended and the crowd enjoyed both a spiritual and physical feast. Rev. H. C. Morrison preached in the morning and afternoon and carried the people away with his drollery and eloquence. The remaining debt of $207 was raised and the Lord was not mocked with mortgaged property. The basket dinner was abundant and comprehensive and no one went away hungry. The members have done themselves proud, both in the church they have built and the manner in which they entertained.

GREEN-BRIAR AND DRIPPING SPRINGS.

HOTEL KATYBIL.

To MY FRIENDS AND PATRONS:—I have

this day taken a new lease on the

"Old Dripping Springs."

The place contains 30 rooms, including a ball-room and "The Lodge." It will not be run as a hotel, but simply as a quiet cottage resort and as a place to make excursions to for the guests of "Green-Briar." The distance is only one mile and I shall connect the two places by a fast pony express for the accommodation of visitors at both places and about twice a week the guests of "Green-Briar" will go over, accompanied by the band, and give the ratters a ball. There will be no public picnics at "Old Dripping" and no private picnics will be allowed unless by first obtaining written permission. The Lodge, 3 rooms, will be rented at $10 per week. All the other parts of the buildings will be rented two rooms for $5 per week—one room for lodging and one small one for smoking. Will furnish one plain bedstead to each room.

Leaving will not be permitted around the place and perfect order will be maintained.

Grand Ball and Picnic at Green-Briar July 4th. H. G. SLAUGHTER.

The Northern Pacific East-bound passenger train was held up and robbed Saturday night, near New Salem, S. D., by four masked men. They made a poor haul, as the express messenger locked himself in and escaped by jumping from the train. The passengers were not disturbed.

Eight young Bostonians went fishing Sunday in Dorchester Bay, when a squall capsized their boat, and all but one were drowned.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Superior Judge, JOSEPH BARBOUR
Appellate Clerk, W. W. LONGMOOR
County Judge, THOMAS W. VARNON
County Attorney, JOSEPH B. PAXTON
County Clerk, GEORGE B. COOPER
Sheriff, J. N. MENEFEE;
Jailer, SAMUEL M. OWENS;
Assessor, E. D. KENNEDY;
Sup't of Common Schools, W. F. McCLEARY
Surveyor, HARRY A. EVANS;
Coroner, ARCH CARSON

The democratic convention to nominate a candidate to succeed Mr. Carlisle in Congress convened at Carrollton yesterday and a bitter and protracted fight is expected. Nearly every county has a candidate and some of them two or more. At the primaries Saturday, Col. A. S. Berry received Campbell county's 21 votes; John S. Gantt got the 8 that Carroll is entitled to; Pendleton instructed her 10 votes for Applegate; Grant gets Boone's 11; Rod Perry Gallatin's 4; and Senator McCain Trimble's 6. In Kenton there was a split and two delegations were named, one instructed for Theodore F. Hallam and the other for James O'Hara, so both are claiming the 29 votes. Grant county is also divided between Dickerson and DeJarnette. It is almost impossible to name the winner, but we have our money on Theodore Hallam.

The republican papers are making much ado over the Kentucky gerrymander, unmindful that their brethren in the North have always used it as their most effectual weapon of warfare on the minority. In 14 Northern States, with the vote standing in the aggregate 3,388,809 republican and 3,074,165 democratic, the democrats are permitted to elect only 47 Congressmen, while the republican gerrymanders enable them to secure 126. In other words, it takes in these 14 Northern States only 3,352 votes to elect a republican to Congress, at the same time it takes 65,408 to elect a democrat. As an exchange remark, the gerrymander is far more effective than a shotgun.

These sensible suggestions are from Col. Kelley, of the Louisville Commercial: Thomas Cheadle, of Indiana, who has been champion of the largest pension appropriations and of the most liberal and even extravagant pension bills, and who was such an advocate of the rights of the private soldier that he opposed a pension to the widow of Gen. Sheridan, has been defeated for re-nomination. There is nothing to show that a Congressman makes anything in the long run by pandering to the prejudices of a class. Experience teaches that a fair and straightforward course is surest to lead to success in the end.

In 1888 the pension payments by the United States amounted to $80,258,505.77. In 1889 they were $87,654,175.61 and in 1890 the appropriation of $103,000,000 has already been exhausted and the coffee-coolers are crying for more. In addition to this we pay $30,000,000 for the support of our standing army of 25,000 men, making the amount for the year for pensions and soldiers' support $133,000,000. Germany maintains a standing army of vast proportions for a total cost this year of $91,726,293. It would be twice as much if demagogues and soldier vote buyers were in the saddle as here.

WHEN SO GOOD A LAWYER AND SO SENSIBLE A MAN AS THE LATE SAMUEL JONES TILDEN COULD NOT MAKE A WILL THAT WOULD PASS THE MINSTER OF THE LAWYERS AND THE COURTS, IT IS USELESS FOR US ORDINARY MEN TO TRY. JUDGE BEACH HAS SIGNED THE FINDINGS IN THE CASE DECLARING THE BEQUESTS TO THE TILDEN TRUST ILLEGAL AND VOID, AND GIVING JUDGMENT IN FAVOR OF COL. GEORGE H. TILDEN, THE PLAINTIFF. SO NONE OF THE GREAT MAN'S MONEY GOES TO THE BENEVOLENT ENTERPRISES HE WISHED TO FOUND.

CORPORAL TANNED, WHO WAS SO UNCONSCIOUSLY KICKED OUT OF THE PENSION OFFICE, OUGHT NOW TO FEEL MIGHTY GLAD THAT HE WAS TREATED SO SHABBY BY HARRISON AND HIS CROWD. HE CLAIMS TO BE MAKING $100,000 A YEAR AS A PENSION LAWYER AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING HIS RECEIPTS. THE PENSION LAWS ARE A PICNIC, FOR JUST SUCH LEECHES AS HE.

THE PENSION OFFICE AT WASHINGTON IS ALWAYS THE SUBJECT OF A SCANDAL. COMMISSIONER BAUM IS NOW ACCUSED OF VARIOUS AND SUNDRY PIECES OF RASCALITY CONNECTED WITH THE DISCHARGE OF THE DUTIES OF HIS OFFICE AND REPRESENTATIVE COOPER, OF INDIANA, HAS ENTERED A RESOLUTION TO HAVE THE CHARGES INVESTIGATED, BUT IF MADE IT WILL LIKELY END IN A WHITEWASH.

HONORS CAME THICK AND FAST TO THAT CLEVER OLD BALD-HEAD, COL. E. POLK JOHNSON, PRESIDENT OF THE KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION, EDITOR OF THE FRANKFORT CAPITAL, PUBLIC PRINTER AND BINDER, AND SO ON. A MILITARY COMPANY HAS BEEN NAMED FOR HIM AT FRANKFORT AND LAST WEEK HE GAVE IT A STAND OF COLORS AND A SPEECH.

THE THRIVING AND DELIGHTFUL LITTLE CITY OF OWENSBORO WILL HAVE THE FREE MAIL DELIVERY SYSTEM INAUGURATED THERE JULY 1, THANKS TO CONGRESSMAN ELLIS, EDITOR WOODSON'S PERSISTENCY AND THE INCREASED POSTAL RECEIPTS.

The secretary of the Kentucky Press Association is in receipt of a letter from Mr. J. E. Babbitt, Jr., general passenger agent of the Kentucky Union railroad, tendering the association a special train over his road from Winchester to the eastern terminus of the line, to run at such time as may best suit the members. As the road runs through the rich mineral region of Southeastern Kentucky, heretofore practically undeveloped, the trip will be of great value to the editors, who will be able to see for themselves what a treasure-house is being opened. It goes without saying that Mr. Babbitt's handsome invitation will be accepted and highly appreciated.

THERE have been sent out by the secretary of the Kentucky Press Association 180 circulars to the various news-papers named in the directory and if any editor has been slighted it was not intentional. The circular was with reference to transportation, which he will furnish to the annual meeting at Winchester on application.

We do not suppose there was ever so negligent a county committee as that which now is supposed to represent the democracy in this county. They failed again to meet yesterday on the call of the chairman. Let them shoot or give up the gun, attend to their business or resign and let somebody else do it.

IN A CARD IN THE LOUISVILLE COMMERCIAL, MR. JAMES B. MARTIN DISCLAIMS CONSPIRACY IN THE COMBINATION BY WHICH LONGNOOR'S NOMINATION WAS SECURED IN THE RECENT CONVENTION. NO ONE WHO KNOWS THE UPRIGHT AND CONSCIENTIOUS GENTLEMAN EVER THOUGHT OTHERWISE.

THE LANCASTER RECORD AND OTHER PAPERS ARE DECLARING FOR MAJOR G. MATT ADAMS FOR GOVERNOR, WHILE STILL OTHERS THINK HE OUGHT TO BE MADE AUDITOR. THE GENTLEMAN IS CAPABLE OF HOLDING ANY OFFICE IN THE GIFTS OF THE PEOPLE AND IS DESERVING OF ANY HONOR THEY CAN BESTOW ON HIM.

THE LARGE PENSION APPROPRIATION FOR THE YEAR WAS SUPPLEMENTED BY $21,508,824 IN APRIL AND NOW IT IS SAID IT WILL REQUIRE $6,000,000 MORE TO MEET THE DEFICIENCY. THE LOT OF THE TREASURY IS PROGRESSING MOST SATISFACTORILY TO THE BONNY-JUMPERS AND COFFEE-COOLERS.

IT IS STATED THAT THERE ARE BUT 255 CONVICTS CONFINED IN THE KANSAS PENITENTIARIES. THE NUMBER OF EX-CONVICTS WHO HAVE SOUGHT REFUGE IN THE STATE AND OF THOSE WHO OUGHT TO BE IN CONFINEMENT IS NOT STATED, BUT SIX FIGURES IN ALINE WOULD HARDLY EXPRESS IT.

THE ALMIGHTY DOLLAR

Was never so mighty as it is this season in purchasing Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Trunks, Carpets, Matting, &c., from us

THE PERSON WHO TOILS

For a dollar a day can get two dollars' worth of goods for their money, simply because we've put our prices so low for best goods made. Prices convey but little meaning unless you come and look at the value and quality that go with our goods. To all working people who want to make their dollar do the work of two, we'll guarantee to

Open Your Eyes

And pocket book when it comes to genuine bargains in seasonable goods that are honest and dependable for wear and good service. Do yourself the justice of paying us a visit before spending even one of your almighty dollars.

TIME, WORK and PATIENCE

Have been the three mottoes giving us the right direction of success, and today, without any exaggeration, we will venture to say that we are always the first on hand to appear before the public with a well selected line of goods above reproach in every respect; that is to say not only the selection of the goods, but also in the minutest examination of material and the closest possible figures.

Miss Lena Williams, of Mt. Vernon, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. J. Sparks.

E. B. Beale went up to Middleboro Sunday to see to his investments there.

Mrs. S. C. Tredegar, of Millersburg, spent Sunday with her brother, Mr. S. S. Myers.

W. E. Lee, the clever representative of the Wright Iron Range Co., was here Saturday.

Miss Rachel Allison, of Georgetown, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Judge Stephen Birch.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hughes and Miss Neale Campbell went to Rock Castle Springs yesterday.

Miss Mary Atcheson went to Richmond yesterday to attend the commencement exercises of Central University.

Misses Helen and Mary and Ben Helm went to Elizabethtown yesterday to spend a month with relatives.

Mrs. Fannie Allen, who has been with her sister, Mrs. J. M. Hubbard, left yesterday for Normal Park, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McCreary, from Nicholasville for a few days, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Foster.

Mr. L. C. Warren will leave this evening for Hot Springs or other Western points for a few weeks' travel.

Misses Martha and Maggie Casper went to Richmond Saturday to spend commencement week with Miss Anna Hagan.

Little Miss Pearl Burnside is the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. P. Crowley, at Hustonville, this week, her first visit from home.

Mr. J. T. Carson left Saturday for the East to spend a month or so. During his absence he will visit New York, Buffalo and Long Branch.

Misses Julia Peavy and Dolie Williams left for Hustonville Saturday, but will honor us with their presence often during the summer.

Miss Annie Dugman, the bright little girl from Barboursville, who attended the College for two or three sessions, went home yesterday to spend the vacation.

Miss Laura McAnally will leave for Atlanta to-day to spend the vacation with her mother. She has nearly recovered from her recent severe spell of sickness.

Misses B. G. Boyce, of the Danville Advocate, and R. E. Hughes, of the Lancaster Record, were here yesterday working the crowd for their respective news papers.

Eddie Stallop, of Sylvia, Kas., who had the misfortune to lose his wife a week ago, after less than six weeks of married life, is visiting his mother, Mrs. S. S. Myers.

E. Hensel, Esq., of Pineville, attended the commencement exercises and was much pleased. He took his daughter home Saturday, but will return with her promptly on the opening of next session.

Mrs. U. D. Stevens and children and Mrs. Traylor, of Gilbert's Creek, Misses Lizzie Simpson, of Marksbury, and Lizzie Thompson, of Lancaster, paid a flying visit to Mrs. A. E. Phillips, on Danville avenue Friday.

Mr. H. G. Slaughter and son Jimmie, were here yesterday advertising Green-Brier and Dripping Springs. The latter will start in a few days and travel all over the State for the purpose of bringing the new resort into public notice.

Miss Dora Caldwell, the accomplished art teacher at the College last session, started home Saturday. She made a great many friends during her brief stay here, who will always remember her with pleasure and wish her success in life.

Miss Mary Carter received the handsomest compliment of having nearly every one of the people of her neighborhood come to see her graduate, a fact which shows how popular she is. Mrs. Carter was so proud and happy she could scarcely restrain her feelings.

Miss Emma McLean, of the College faculty, left for her home in Ohio yesterday. She has been with us two sessions and during the time has endeared herself to many friends, who are sorry to know she will not return next session, and who earnestly hope that her lines may always fall in pleasant places.

By a strange oversight the names of Misses Allene Welsh, of Nicholasville, and Gertie Grady, of Columbia, were omitted from the report of the hop but we beg their pardon and now supply the omission. The former was beautifully attired in blue satin, beaded front, pearls, and the latter in white silk and diamonds.

Mr. J. P. Crow, partner of Mr. S. T. Cobb, of Harriman, Tenn., was here this week on business.—Richmond Register.

Mr. O. V. Riley, who was indicted by the grand jury for assaulting J. T. Parrish, had his trial before Judge Cutcher and was acquitted, the evidence being to the effect that Mr. Riley's action was justifiable under the circumstances.—Pineville Messenger.

The ex-Confederate and Federal soldiers at Middlesboro have inaugurated a movement to raise money for the erection on the top of Pineapple mountain, at Cumberland Gap, a colossal statue of Gen. U. S. Grant and Robert E. Lee, and the general public will be asked to subscribe.

Is the county court yesterday B. F. Ingeman qualified as justice of the peace in the Hulme precinct and M. S. Bastin as administrator of his brother, John H. Bastin. Since the last term T. D. Newland was appointed and qualified as administrator of Pat Muldoon, the old Irishman so well known in this section. John W. Bright also qualified as justice in the Hulme precinct and John Moore constable in the Hustonville precinct.

No More—Commonwealth's Attorney Clark telegraphed Jailer Owens Friday that there were indications of a mob coming from Whitley county to rescue the man, Beth Fusion, who is in jail here for safe keeping until the court of appeals passes on his petition for a new trial. Mr. Owens put on a few guards, though he had no idea it was necessary. Our pal is so constrained that one man can whip a mob of 1,000 and two can put 10,000 to flight. We have got money to bet that no mob ever takes Fusion from this jail.

Almost a Pandemic—While Miss Clara Lackey was reciting "Paradise and the Peri" a red light was thrown on her to heighten the effect of the scene. The sudden flash caused some lady to think that fire had broken out and to halloo at the top of her voice. The audience rose to its feet and attempted to rush to the door and down the steps of the Opera House, but was held back by those standing there, while Prof. Hubbard and others did their best to explain and to quiet the panicky-stricken crowd. Order was restored in a few minutes and then everybody felt like kicking himself for acting so foolishly.

Tim escort to President H. E. Huntington and party has returned and say they were met with a royal reception all along the line of the Cumberland railroad survey. The Casey people promised the right-of-way and Adair county people guaranteed the same through her and a subscription of $20,000 besides. The party was not at Neelysville by Gov. Hindman and others, of Columbia, and on arriving there they were cordially received. Mr. Huntington was very favorably impressed with the country and the cheapness of the survey, but he made no actual promise to build the road. The Stanford men came back from Columbia and Gov. Hindman and others went on to Gallatin with Mr. Huntington.

The very delightful entertainment given by the Misses Tribble at Junction City, Friday evening, was attended by the society people of this entire section, who are now handing those young ladies for so elegant an evening. The party was given the graduating class of Daughters College and they with the fair hostesses did the entertaining superbly. The large dining-room was converted into a ball-room and there till nearly 3 o'clock the beans and belle-séglis gracefully through the glorious waltz or participated in the stately lancers and quadrilles. At the most opportune hour a splendid lunch was enjoyed, thus giving renewed spirits to the worshippers of Terpsichore. It was a grand entertainment and will live long in the memories of those who attended.

The Hustonville Fair will be held July 22, 23 and 24 and it is going to be the best of the series.

Harry Jack, alias John H. Miller, bites in a column of eulogy of his friend Woodford W. Longmire, in yesterday's Courier-Journal.

A SNEAK THIEF walked off Sunday with a nice new hat belonging to Mr. J. E. Farris. It was hanging in his back porch and was taken about dusk.

The preacher got after the Presbyterians who dined at the late hop, in his sermon Sunday, and said that the session would attend to their cases. Poor girls,

The signal service predicted rain yesterday and it began to fall in 10 minutes after the signal was displayed. There were only light showers, however, but a good rain would be welcome.

Yesterdays was a very dull court day. There was but little stock offered and no sales that we heard of. Perhaps it will be better when the change of day is better understood.

The school trustees of District No. 4, Mt. Xenia, have secured Miss Lillie Petts, an experienced teacher from Semeret, who will begin teaching on the first Monday in July.

The K. C. will run an excursion train to Paris on the 12th, the occasion being the grand tall Fellows celebration, at $2 for the round-trip, which is less than half fare. The train will leave Rowland at 4:30 a. m.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.—Conductor Patterson, on freight 38, accidentally shot George Parker, one of his brakemen, at Gettysburg, Friday. He was carelessly handling a pistol, which he supposed was unloaded, but which was discharged, the bullet entering the fleshy part of Parker's shoulder. The wound is a painful one, but is not considered serious. Both parties have headquarters at Highland.

The trustees of the Stanford Male and Female Seminary are so well pleased with the manner in which Prof. James G. Penny has managed the school that they unanimously tendered it to him again and he has accepted. The compliment is a high one but thoroughly deserved.

The Stanford Roller Mills sold at auction yesterday for $10,000, although they have cost fully $40,000 from first to last.

A syndicate composed of the following gentlemen were the purchasers: Dr. S. G. Hoek, S. T. Harris, E. Reid, J. W. Hayden, T. J. Foster, W. G. Welch, Tom Metcalf, Adam Pence and J. S. Hoek.

Roy's Mill, on Green River, was destroyed by fire Thursday night. It was the property of B. T. Pierce and G. M. Brown, of Casey, they having bought it for $2,000, or $1 more than the mortgage held on it by our townsmen, W. P. Tate. The property was not in good condition and had not been running for sometime. It is supposed that it was set afire. There was no insurance.

An Envelope Moistener and Sealer.

The accompanying illustration represents a device for moistening envelopes, pressing the flap down and sealing the envelope. It has been patented by Mr. James Martz, of Mt. Vernon, Ky. In standards, upon a suitable base, is journaled a tapering roller, and on one of the standards is held a water reservoir, with which is connected a holder supporting a thin, flat sponge, held close to the roller. The reservoir has an aperture in the corner adjoining the sponge holder, through it passes a tube leading to the sponge holder, drawing it forward over the roller beneath, when the flap is turned down and the envelope passed between the spring pressed rollers, thus effectually sealing it. A corner of the envelope may also be conveniently moistened to receive the stamp by means of this device.—Scientific American.

A CORRECTION.—A few weeks ago we published an account of the cutting of Mr. O. V. Riley, which although we got it straight, proves to be a very erroneous one. Mr. Parrish, therefore requests that we publish this from the Pineville Messenger in justice to him: “An unfortunate difficulty occurred last Friday between two of our most prominent young business men, Mr. O. V. Riley and J. C. Parrish engaged in a personal encounter in the latter's store, which resulted in Mr. Riley receiving a slight cut from a pocket knife in the hands of Mr. Parrish. The difficulty grew out of a controversy over a law suit in which Mr. Riley was engaged as an attorney on the opposite side. It seems that Mr. Riley called on Parrish and endeavored to effect some sort of a compromise. Hot words followed and Mr. Riley used his cane, and Mr. Parrish a knife. Friends fortunately interfered before much damage could be done. A special session of the grand jury returned an indictment against Mr. Riley, but failed to find one against Mr. Parrish, claiming that he was justified in doing the cutting.

—Engene H. Hale, who kidnapped his child from her mother at Cleveland, O., and took her to Montreal, attempted to shoot his wife in the latter city Sunday, but was himself dangerously shot in the neck by his brother-in-law, E. C. Hale, and may die. Cowles is the son of the late editor of the Cleveland Leader.

—A Wagner vestibule car jumped the track on the L. & N. short line Friday and fell down a 30-foot embankment, breaking it completely in two. Ten persons were injured, including Col. and Mrs. H. C. Hodges, of Louisville, Maj. Ames Stickney, of the army, and Col. Brent Arnold. Joseph Blackwell and Mrs. Johnson are perhaps fatally injured.

—William M. Crittenden, of Paris, Ky., chief engineer of the 3d Wyoming survey district, with three of his party, was massacred by a band of renegade Cheyennes, who, crazed by liquor sold them by ranchmen, went to the surveyor's camp and demanded more. Being refused they attacked the camp. The red devils were captured and lynched, together with the whites who sold them the whisky that incited the crime.

It is stated that Hon. Richard C. Warren, who has made such a splendid record as Lincoln county's representative in the late unfeigned Legislature, will soon announce himself a candidate for Auditor of State. Mr. Warren's friends have been urging him to make the race for some time, but he has declined thus far to openly commit himself to a candidacy. The report is now, however, that in a very short time Mr. Warren will shy his easter and take his chances. Should Mr. Warren announce himself he will prove a formidable competitor from the very start, and he is almost certain to gather strength as the campaign proceeds. He is a man of wide experience, a gentleman of the highest principles, and capable and fitted in every respect to make a good auditor. At present Mr. Green, of this city, and Auditor Norman are the only announced aspirants. Mr. Warren's decision will be awaited with interest by the politicians of the State.—Louisville Times.

“We have decided to take a trip North,” writes a Georgia editor, “and during our absence the paper will be in charge of our wife. As some of our delinquent subscribers may not know her as well as we do, we advise them in advance to settle their accounts in full if she should call upon them.”

A curious trap at the patent office is an imitation rat that has a piece of toasted cheese stuck on the end of a little spear that projects from his nose a short distance. When a real rat comes up to nibble at the cheese the spear jumps out about six inches and impales the unfortunate.

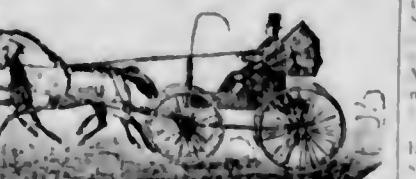

Two Florida men cut down a bee tree and saved several hundred pounds of honey. When they finished gathering the honey they commenced to investigate the top of the tree and found where cranes had built their nests. They gathered up 240 dozen eggs.

Livery Stable.

I have added new buggies, wagons and horses to my livery business, making my stable second to none in this section. First class turnouts and stables and feeding by the day, week, month or a specialty.
